About The National Finance Institute (NFI)

The National Finance Institute (NFI) specialises in high quality, client focused training and capability development. As a Registered Training Organisation (RTO) we offer nationally accredited qualifications and are recognised by the industry as a provider of choice for those who value educational opportunities based on real life and practical experience in both the Financial Services and broader professional sectors.

Our training courses provide a balance between theory and real-life practical skills to deliver results that can be immediately applied in the 'real world'. We believe this is an important key to success in the finance industry.

Peter Heinrich started NFI in 2004 with the objective of forming the industry's leading training organisation. Both directors have extensive experience in the finance industry.

For over 30 years Peter Heinrich has been heavily involved in the banking and mortgage broking industries. His last 7 years in banking were as State Manager (WA) for St George Bank, with a major focus on growing the mortgage broking unit.

Active participation as an adult learner will ensure that study is successful. With the support of NFI and a trainee's commitment it is possible to advance in a chosen career.

During training a trainee will have certain rights and responsibilities, which are covered in this Handbook. However, if a trainee has any questions regarding these rights and responsibilities they are always welcome to request further information.

General Information

The purpose of this trainee handbook is to provide information regarding NFI's training and assessment services, policies and procedures and also any legislation or guidelines, which may be relevant to trainees' training programs. Once a trainee has commenced a training program with NFI all parties have a responsibility to each other to manage the process effectively. NFI will provide support and advice in order to assist in the achievement of the course or qualification in which a trainee is enrolled.

The Unique Student Identifier (USI)

Trainees undertaking nationally recognised training in Australia will need to have a Unique Student Identifier (USI) and should apply and gain this as soon as possible prior to or shortly after enrolment.

A USI will give trainees access to an online record of training completed since 1 January 2015. This will then allow a comprehensive transcript of training to be accessed. This can be used when applying for a job, seeking a credit transfer or demonstrating pre-requisites when undertaking further training.

A trainee cannot be issued with a Certificate or Statement of Attainment after 1 January 2015 unless they have a USI.

Upon enrolment with NFI trainees will be requested to provide their USI as part of the enrolment question process. It is free and easy for a USI to be created online at www.usi.gov.au

International trainees studying offshore and who do not intend on coming to Australia to study do not need a USI (at enrolment a suitable form of photo identification should be provided to prove identity – suitable forms of identification are driver's licence, national identification card or passport). You will be enrolled as the name appears on these documents and your certification will be issued using this name.

Steps to create your USI

Step 1 Have at least one and preferably two forms of ID ready from the list below:

- Driver's Licence
- Medicare Card
- Australian Passport

- Visa (with Non-Australian Passport) for international students
- Birth Certificate (Australian)
- Certificate of Registration by Descent
- Citizenship Certificate

IMPORTANT: To make sure all training records are kept together, the USI will be linked to your name as it appears on the form of ID you used to create the USI. The personal details entered when you create a USI must match exactly with those on your form of ID. This will also be the name that you should enroll under with NFI and the name which will appear on all certification issues by NFI. Names on certificates cannot vary from the name registered with the USI.

Step 2 Have personal contact details ready (e.g. email address or mobile number or address).

Step 3 Visit the USI website at: usi.gov.au.

Step 4 Select the 'Create a USI' link and follow the steps.

Step 5 Agree to the Terms and Conditions.

Step 6 Follow the instructions to create a USI – it should only take 5 to 10 minutes. Upon completion, the USI will be displayed on the screen. It will also be sent to your preferred method of contact.

Step 7 You should then write down the USI and keep it somewhere handy and safe.

Step 8 Provide the USI to NFI by email or when you enrol.

Enrolment

Enrolment Information

Having selected NFI as your chosen Registered Training Organisation (RTO), trainees will need to complete the enrolment process which will provide NFI with personal details and the course or qualification you will be undertaking. Prior to enrolment the details of this handbook should be read and understood. If you require further information or wish to talk to someone about your options of study and payment terms please do not hesitate to contact us. The enrolment process is streamlined through our website at www.financeinstitute.com.au where the "Enrol Here" button will take you through to the learning mode/course options. From there you will conclude the enrolment process by completing your payment options which include cheque, bank deposit, PayPal or most commonly through our secured eWay gateway by credit card. All course fees are shown in full, prior to the payment being processed.

The information collected within the enrolment form process is used for administrative and statistical purposes (called AVEMTISS information) and is required by the national training authorities. Should this information not be supplied at enrolment it may affect your terms or enrolment or the services which NFI supplies to you. The enrolment information is important in helping us assist you in your studies and for us to keep in contact with you. If at any stage there is a change to your details (e.g. address, phone number or email address) you must notify NFI as soon as possible via enquiries@financeinstitute.com.au.

Prior to enrolment or Commencement of Training

Prior to enrolment or the commencement of training and assessment NFI offers advice and information to the prospective trainee about the training product appropriate to meet the trainee's needs, taking into account the individual's existing skills and competencies, via the Trainee Handbook, website, or via verbal communication and written correspondence (in the form of a survey). This enables the trainee to make informed decisions about undertaking training with NFI and at a minimum would include the following content:

- a. The code, title and currency of the training product to which the trainee is to be enrolled, as published on the National Register
- b. The training and assessment, and related educational and support services NFI will provide to the trainee including the:
 - i. estimated duration
 - ii. expected locations at which it will be provided
 - iii. expected modes of delivery
 - iv. name and contact details of any third party that will provide training and/or assessment, and related educational and support services to the trainee on the RTO's behalf, and
 - v. any work placement arrangements if applicable.
- c. The RTO's obligations to the trainee, including that the RTO is responsible for the quality of the training and assessment in compliance with these Standards, and for the issuance of the AQF certification documentation.
- d. The trainee's rights, including:
 - i. details of the RTO's complaints and appeals process required by Standard 6 of the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTO) 2015, and
 - ii. if the RTO, or a third party delivering training and assessment on its behalf, closes or ceases to deliver any part of the training product that the trainee is enrolled in, how these services will be continued
- e. The trainee's obligations:
 - i. repayment of any enrolment debt to NFI
 - ii. complete the required enrolment forms and applications, providing NFI with the required/requested information. In the event that the information is not supplied services may be delayed to the trainee.
 - iii. apply for and supply a Unique Student Identifier (USI)

Fees and Charges

Current Fees and Charges

An enrolment is considered complete when payment has been received in full by NFI. All fees are listed in Australian dollars.

NFI will only accept a maximum of $1500 deposit on any course. Any balance due will be taken on the first day of training or when study is about to commence. Further payments will not be greater than $1500 for training or other related services.

Payment methods accepted, include credit cards, cheque, money order, PayPal or direct deposit.

Certification will not be issued to any trainee until full payment has been received by NFI.

Payment Plans

NFI has a payment plan option that can be used for all enrolments, except for RPL services.

Payment plans are available on a 2, 3 or 4 month installment basis. Payment plans are only available for payment via credit cards. After the first payment has been processed, subsequent payments are processed on the same date each month, or nearest business day, for the term chosen.

There is a $40 establishment fee which is added to the total cost of the enrolment fee.

Payment amounts are calculated in the following way: Enrolment amount plus the establishment fee, divided by the number of installments. Example:

- The FNS40815 Certificate IV in Finance & Mortgage Broking program undertaken online costs $695 and the trainee wishes the payment plan to be taken over 4 months. The fees would be $($695 + $40) / 4 = $183.75$ pm (this is the monthly fee payable for 4 months).

A new trainee can request a pay-by-the-month application form which is then to be completed and sent to NFI by email to enquiries@financeinstitute.com.au. The form is also available on the NFI website under Forms.

In the event that trainees fail to make the agreed payments on the scheduled dates and when payments are overdue by more than 60 days, NFI will notify the trainee of their commitment to comply with their credit obligations.

NFI reserves the right to suspend services and access to learning systems until due payments have been made.

Course fees can be paid as per the enrolment instructions contained on the invoice. Terms are 30 days for pre-arranged group clients. Receipts will be issued by email.

GST

Training courses offered by NFI are GST-free. Recognition of Prior Learning, extensions or any additional material, products or services provided by NFI, are subject to GST at 10%. GST is inclusive in any advertised prices.

Re-Assessment Fee

In the event a trainee is deemed CNA- Competency Not Achieved/fail in their 3rd attempt, the trainee will incur a $99 re assessment fee for a 4th assessment attempt, if requested by the trainee. Where there is an alternative assessment task available the trainee will be given this to complete.

In the event that the trainee is deemed CNA- Competency Not Achieved/fail in the 4th assessment attempt, and the trainee still wishes to pursue the qualification, the trainee will be required to re-enrol.

The re-enrolment fee payable is:

- Workshop (if applicable) - $695
- Distance learning - $495 (updated material will be forwarded by mail if required)
- Online e-learning - $395 (login instructions will be forwarded by email)

Upon re-enrolment, a trainee will be given 6 months to complete their studies.

- Where academic misconduct and plagiarism has been determined by NFI.
- Where nonacademic misconduct has been determined by NFI.

- Where a course or qualification requirement has been updated as identified by www.training.gov.au

Any other reason a trainee submits as grounds for a refund will be assessed by NFI on a case by case basis.

Trainees must send an email to enquiries@financeinstitute.com.au within 7 days of their enrolment to request a refund. Supporting documentation must be provided to support the exceptional circumstances. The determination of refunds will at all times be at the discretion of The National Finance Institute. A decision will be communicated to trainees via email within 5 working days of NFI receiving the refund request.

Payment of Refunds

Trainees who have been granted a refund due to Exceptional Circumstances will receive a refund of the full purchase amount, less an administration processing fee of 10% of the enrolment fee that has been paid. Refund payments will be paid within 30 days of the refund being approved.

Refunds agreed by NFI will only be paid to the person or body (on behalf of the trainee) from whom the original payment was received.

Debt Recovery

NFI will follow and utilise the process of debt recovery as outlined in its Debt Recovery policy. NFI has the right to list any un-recovered debts with a third party and this may affect a person's credit rating.

Consumer Protection Mechanism

NFI will ensure that all information in relation to training and assessment services offered is concise and accurate and not misleading at the time of publication, including the nature of the guarantee to students, refunds and agreements between students and the RTO as indicated in the enrolment form and trainee handbook. Trainees have rights under the Australian Consumer Law (ACL) 2011 to receive the services that have been offered in the agreement or enrolment form process and within a reasonable timeframe as indicated.

Nature of the Guarantee

NFI will provide the training and assessment services outlined in the enrolment form process to trainees. In the unlikely event that NFI cannot complete training for trainees currently enrolled, because of insolvency or administration, every attempt will be made to transfer the trainees to another training company offering the same or similar qualifications. All trainee records including enrolments and qualifications to date will be forwarded to ASQA (<http://www.asqa.gov.au/>).

Changes Made to Courses

NFI reserves the right to make changes where necessary to timetables, delivery sequence, training hours and other details beyond NFI's control that may affect study schedules. Trainees will be advised of any proposed changes as soon as practicable in writing which includes by email.

Course Material

Course manuals will be provided to workshop trainees on their first day of attendance at their face-to-face training course. If completing the course by distance learning, trainees will receive their hard copy course manual by mail within 3-10 business days of enrolment. Online trainees have immediate access to their training course following processing of payment and receipt of their login details. It is not permitted for material to be copied or used by another person.

Minimum Workshop Size

At their discretion, NFI require a minimum of 4 trainees to run a workshop. Should there be less than 4 trainees, an alternative course date will be offered to the trainees enrolled or fees will be refunded or an alternative method of delivery offered. The trainee will not be disadvantaged financially by NFI not being able to proceed with a workshop. NFI maintains a schedule of workshop dates on the financeinstitute.com.au website which shows scheduled workshop dates a minimum of 2 months in advance.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

The National Finance Institute is committed to providing all trainees with a fair and accessible process for Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL). The process acknowledges the skills, knowledge, performance outcomes and learning achieved prior to enrolling with NFI.

NFI recognises that knowledge, skills and competencies can be acquired from a range of learning experiences, including formal, non-formal and informal.

NFI has established the following RPL methods:

- Credit Transfer
- Portfolio of Evidence
- Customised Recognition

Any RPL fees paid by an applicant, which results in a non-approval result can be credited towards study of a qualification or may be refunded at management's discretion, less a $100 administration fee.

RPL applications will not be reviewed or assessed without receipt of full payment of RPL fees as per the listed amount.

Credit Transfer

Credit Transfer assesses a trainee's prior learning achieved through the formal education and training process. Credit Transfer seeks to match the learning outcomes of a trainee's previous training to those of the current program for which trainees are seeking recognition. To be awarded Credit Transfer the proof of the unit of competence must be presented by the trainee for recognition. NFI utilises www.training.gov.au for the purpose of confirming the currency of competence. Where the unit of competency was gained by the trainee more than 2 years ago, the trainee must supply evidence of currency of skills and knowledge pertaining to the units of competence in which credit transfer is being sought. Currency of skills and knowledge is generally shown, by supplying a current resume or continuing professional development records and or references from current workplace managers.

Credit Transfer are unable to be granted for units of competence or qualifications which are not included in NFI's scope of registration.

Credit Transfer may only be awarded for whole units of competence.

Trainees may not enrol only for Credit Transfer and must undertake training and assessment components with NFI of a minimum of one unit within a qualification. Trainees may not have Credit Transfer allocated for a whole qualification or skills set.

If a trainee's request for Credit Transfer involves viewing of transcripts or Statements of Attainment which are not immediately clear then NFI can request an NFI assessor to review the statements for a fee of $48. If the assessor determines that the statements cannot be acknowledged under Credit Transfer but should instead form part of an RPL application then the trainee will have the option to change from Credit Transfer review to RPL and the $48 fee will go towards the RPL fee. The $48 review fee will not be refunded if the trainee does not move forward with RPL or enrolment.

Trainees are required to present true copies of any Statements of Attainment or qualifications when applying for Credit Transfer.

Portfolio of Evidence

Portfolios allow a trainee to document and demonstrate their knowledge of a unit of competence. The portfolio will document what has been learned, where and how the trainee learned it, and how the trainee's experiences meet the requirements of the unit of competence. NFI has specific evidence guides for each qualification and these outline what is required to be submitted to demonstrate competence in a particular unit of competence.

The evidence presented must clearly relate to the unit of competency, including its elements and performance criteria. There are two main types of evidence that can be used to demonstrate competence: direct evidence indirect evidence.

- Direct evidence provides trainees with the opportunity to directly demonstrate the required skills and knowledge as outlined in the unit of competency to the assessor.
- Indirect evidence is information about trainee's skills and knowledge which is submitted in a portfolio and which allows an assessor to make a judgement of competence.

Customised Recognition

Customised Recognition allows trainees to be granted recognition based upon an assessment of their previous learning, experience, current knowledge and skills or a combination of these. Customised Recognition is an assessment of the trainee's formal and informal learning, skills and knowledge to determine the extent to which that student has achieved the required learning outcomes for a unit of competency in respect to a qualification, or part qualification.

Academic Misconduct and Plagiarism

Academic misconduct or plagiarism occurs when someone else's words, ideas or findings are reproduced and presented as a trainee's own, without proper acknowledgment. It includes attempts by trainee to cheat or act dishonestly in an examination, test, assignment, essay or any other assessment task.

Trainees should use the Harvard Referencing System for guidance on how to appropriately acknowledge sources of information that they use in preparing and the submission of assessment tasks.

Trainees who are found cheating or guilty of plagiarism in any form of assessment will be deemed CNA - Competency Not Achieved/failed for the relevant Unit of Competency or full assessment task, as applicable.

All cases of cheating or plagiarism are recorded on the student database system and remain permanently on the trainee's file. Trainees will need to re-sit an exam or redo in full any assessment where plagiarism has been identified. Trainees found cheating a second time will receive a formal written warning from the CEO and will have a final attempt to re-submit assessment tasks as their own work. Continued academic misconduct or involvement in plagiarism will result in expulsion and refunds will not be considered.

NFI reserves the right in Academic Misconduct and plagiarism cases to notify the National Training Authorities and relevant professional bodies of these circumstances.

Plagiarism and cheating re-assessment fee

In the event that it is determined that cheating or plagiarism has occurred in an assessment submitted by trainee, the trainee will be required to pay a $99 re-assessment fee (for the assessment task in question). Where an alternative assessment task is in place this will be given to the trainee to complete.

If it is determined that the re assessment task has been plagiarised or copied then the trainee would need to re-enrol.

Trainees' Code of Behaviour

The adult learning environment at NFI encourages and supports the participation of people from diverse backgrounds. Our aim is for each trainee to have an equal opportunity to learn in a supportive environment.

Trainee Rights

NFI recognises that trainees have the right to:

- Have their prior learning, acquired competencies and experience appropriately recognised in determining their requirements for training and assessment;
- Be advised of the learning outcomes and prescribed assessment tasks for the training program of their choice prior to its commencement and appeal for a review of the results of an assessment;
- Learn from qualified, competent and diligent trainers, who will address the trainee's learning needs, assist them to achieve the course outcomes and assess their work fairly;

- Learn in an appropriately appointed, safe and clean learning environment, free of all forms of harassment and discrimination;
- Be treated with dignity and fairness;
- Expect the RTO will be ethical and open in their dealings, their communications and their advertising;
- Expect the RTO will observe their duty of care to them;
- Be provided with efficient handling of administrative matters and in the processing of fees, concessions, refunds, etc.;
- Privacy, confidentiality and secure storage of trainee records in accordance with the organisation's policies, to the extent permitted by law;

Trainee Support

Policy and Procedure

NFI is committed to supporting trainees' individual needs and to provide guidance services ranging from disability access to support in English language literacy and numeracy. Trainees requiring the assistance of external support services are assisted by the staff at NFI in connecting with the most relevant service available.

It is important that trainees are adequately supported through their training and assessment process. Trainees are provided with:

- Qualified staff, who are available for personal and vocational guidance
- Feedback on their progress through the assessment
- Equal opportunity to demonstrate their competence/skills and knowledge
- Appropriate level of learning support
- Support and guidance to external agencies should the student need further support in specific areas.

Reasonable Adjustment

Reasonable adjustment will be made for trainees with specific learning needs. Reasonable adjustments are made to ensure that trainees are not presented with artificial barriers, such as those resulting from a physical disability, of demonstrating achievement in the program of study.

Reasonable adjustment may include the use of educational support, alternatives methods of assessment such as oral assessment and individual assessment conditions such as enlarged print materials or additional time for the activities to be completed.

Language, Literacy and Numeracy

NFI is committed to providing all potential and current trainees with support for needs regarding language, literacy and numeracy.

Trainees are asked to identify when they enrol, whether they have a disability, impairment or long-term condition as well as the standard of their English. This assists NFI support staff, trainers and assessors in determining what level of support may be required. Trainees may be assessed in order to ascertain their Literacy and Numeracy skills is sufficient to successfully undertake the training program. This is usually via interview or completion of a Language Literacy and Numeracy Test. A member of NFI support staff would notify the trainee if they are required to complete the test.

Where learning support is identified and required for those with basic literacy, numeracy or other identified learning difficulties, the following support mechanisms will be put into place:

- A discussion with the student about the specific level of support needed and the relevant area/s being language, literacy or numeracy

- Confidentiality will be maintained at all times
- Details on support services will be gathered by NFI and passed onto the trainee along with guidance on how we will integrate the support service into the trainees training and assessment.
- Discussion with the trainee on how reasonable adjustment will play a role in their training and assessment plan

Welfare and Guidance Services

The staff at NFI are able to assist trainees to choose the right course, help with individual study needs and provide guidance about external agencies for specific areas in need. Amongst other things our staff are approachable in providing support with course planning, career goals and direction, assessment anxiety and identifying an agency that may assist with personal issues that impact on learning.

Special Needs

If a trainee requires additional support services to complete any of NFI's training courses (such as assistive technology or additional tutorials) all trainers and assessors will provide the first point of assistance. The trainee would be referred to an external agency if the trainer is unable to assist. All external support services are at the expense of the trainee.

Trainees who identify themselves as having disability or special needs need to advise NFI prior to enrolment so that we can ensure that, if required, we have prepared the venue, materials, facility or amenity to cater to the special needs. This advice can be given by a note within the enrolment process, telephone or email and confidentiality is ensured.
